

City of Arts and Sciences

The City of the Arts and Sciences is an essential visit for those travelling to Valencia.

A spectacular collection of some of Europe's most stunning architecture, the City of Arts and Sciences in Valencia is fast becoming one of Spain's top tourist attractions.

This futuristic "city within a city" must surely rank as one of the world's most exciting and imaginative millennium projects. The entire complex, designed by Valencia's own Santiago Calatrava consists of an array of white structures bathed in crystal blue lagoons.

The "City" consists of Science Museum,
360° Cinema,
Opera House,
Oceanographic (aquarium) and
Umbracle (shaded walkway).

You don't have to be an opera buff or science boffin to enjoy a day out here - in fact if you're on a tight budget you can just wander round this incredible "city" without even buying an entrance ticket. You can walk for more than seven kilometres around the complex or catch the Doto train which also takes you on a tour of the leisure area of the dried up river bed of the River Turia.

Moreover, the City of the Arts and Sciences has a variety of restaurants on offer as well as thematic shops in the different areas. The L'Oceanografic underwater restaurant, with the walls made up of a great aquarium, is to definitely to be seen.

The City of Arts and Sciences can be found on the Tourist Bus route, stop N°3.
